Shanna has been competing in West Coast Swing since 2009, and has been teaching all styles of partner dancing since 2006. She competes at an All-Star level and has been competing all over the country.

Other than her passion for teaching, she loves to perform. She holds the 2014 US Open Swing Dance Championships Rising Star title, and now competes in the Classic division. She is always excited to bring her fun teaching style to any group or club she visits.
